

Agriturismo Palazzo Massaini

Palazzo Massaini Farm Holidays

Palazzo Massaini, which has the pleasure to be the centre of the farm and of the family-run business, got the name in 1550, from the noble Massaini Family from Siena. They turned the ancient castle of Bibbiano Cacciconti into a mansion-house of the Renaissance.

The building is located in the state highway number 146, connecting Montepulciano and Pienza in the province of Siena, on the top of the hill facing the wonderful "city of Pio II".

Nowadays it is still the centre of the estate, thanks to the wine cellars and to the point of sale of the typical products of Siena.

The estate extends on more than 300 hectares, in the heart of Val d'Orcia

The whole estate of Palazzo Massaini is located between Pienza and Montepulciano and it extends on the sweet hills of the Cultural and Natural Artistic Park of Val d'Orcia, part of the UNESCO world heritage list since 2004.

The estate includes 308 hectares where grapevines and olives are cultivated in the hilly part and cereals are cultivated in the valley floor. The whole area is characterized by copse of evergreen woods, where you can also find a very wide fenced piece of land of about 20 hectares for deer farming.

The area is very rich in wild flora and fauna: along the paths through the woods and the cross-country routes in olive groves and vineyards it is easy to sight hares and pheasants, foxes and hedgehogs, roe deer and wild boars.

In this region you can pass a very good time having long walks or riding by bike (bikes are available for farm holiday tourists for free), through sunny and quiet country roads, in a natural context rich in ancient buildings, wonderful landscapes and very fascinating panoramic views, so typical of Tuscany.
